

Arabic Manuscript Written by the Sayyid Othman ar-Rushdy

Contains extracts from the Traditional Sayings, in Naskh, among which are these:
"He who restrains his anger when it is in his power to manifest it, God has filled his heart with light and faith."
"He who praises thee for virtues which thou dost not possess, and who neverthe less affects thee, will find fault with thee for vices which thou hast not."

Hadith.

Sayyid 'Uthman al Rushdy. Naskh.Undated.

Contains extracts from the Traditional Sayings, in Naskh, among which are these: "He who restrains his anger when it is in his power to manifest it, God has filled his heart with light and faith." "He who praises thee for virtues which thou dost not possess, and who nevertheless affects thee, will find fault with thee for vices which thou hast not," by the Sayyid Othman ar-Ruchdy